OPPD Celebrates Lineworker Appreciation Day

Jen Snodgrass

My son's power got knocked out at the beginning of a huge snow storm. These guys showed up like the calvary and got things running in record time. They can have a thankless job, so I'm always sure to go the extra mile and give thanks!!

Steven Keogh

Very nice picture! Thanks for keeping the east side of the state running! We all have some of the best field guys and linemen in the country that truly care about the folks that live in all of Nebraska and they love what they do. Always a pleasure meeting your trucks on the road when I come thru your area with my orange bumper or personal vehicle!

Suzan Benefield

Thank you for ALL your hard work!! You are truly unsung heroes! All of us owe you gratitude and respect for keeping us in power during these nasty storms! When we do lose power, it's never for very long! Thank you!!

Linda Hogan Herout

We appreciate you!

Anne Skidmore

Takes courage and skill to do what you guys do. Thank you for braving storms and adverse situations to keep us powered up!!!

OPPD's news site, The Wire, shared a profile piece on one of our very own, longtime lineworker.
